

GF23
09.20.2023

Global Governance
Innovation

Augusto López-Claros

Chair, Global Governance Forum

Augusto Lopez-Claros is currently the Chair of the Global Governance Forum, an organization committed to fostering strengthened international cooperation in the search for solutions to global problems. He is an economist with over 30 years of experience in international organizations. He has worked in a number of senior roles at the World Bank, where he was Director of the Global Indicators Group, at the World Economic Forum, where he was Chief Economist and the International Monetary Fund, which he represented in Moscow during the 1990s.

Richard Ponzio

Director of the Global Governance, Justice and Security Program,
Senior Fellow, Stimson Center

Dr. Richard Ponzio is director of the Global Governance, Justice & Security Program and Senior Fellow at the Stimson Center, where he also co-directs the Global Governance Innovation Network, serves on the Steering Committee for the Climate Governance Commission and earlier directed the Albright-Gambari Commission on Global Security, Justice & Governance (2014-2016). Ponzio has served in senior peacebuilding roles with the United Nations and U.S. State Department in Afghanistan, Bosnia, Kosovo, New York, Pakistan, Sierra Leone, the Solomon Islands and Washington, D.C.

GF23
09.20.2023

Global Governance
Innovation

GF23 GLOBAL FUTURES

Nudhara Yusuf

Executive Coordinator, Global Governance Innovation Network (GGIN),
Research Assistant, Global Governance, Justice & Security Program,
Stimson Center

Nudhara Yusuf is Executive Coordinator of the Global Governance Innovation Network (GGIN) and Research Assistant with the Global Governance, Justice & Security Program at the Stimson Center. Her research primarily focuses on governance of and with future generations, the role of globalization and development in the shifting multilateral architecture, and engaging youth and civil society in governance and multilateral institutions. In addition to her role at Stimson, Yusuf also serves as Coordinator of the Global Futures Forum, Global Youth Coordinator at the Coalition for the UN We Need.

